

October 25, 2012

"True Self-Configuration for the Internet of Things" is the title of the demo that SPITFIRE partners presented at the Internet of Things 2012 conference in Wuxi, China. It was part of the first "IoT Challenge" competition, which called for highly innovative research and practical solutions to real-world problems. The SPITFIRE team won the second place in the competition.

More information about the award can be found here <http://spitfire-project.eu/iot-challenge-award>